What is Rhode Island Connections Academy?

Rhode Island Connections Academy is an online public-school program for students in grades K–12 who reside in the state of Rhode Island. Rhode Island Connections Academy is tuition-free for families and is funded through local school districts in partnership with East Bay Educational Collaborative. This is a unique public-school program that combines the strong parental involvement of learning from home, professional expertise, accountability, and a flexible learning environment. Rhode Island Connections Academy provides the tools and support students need to learn in an online setting.

Please note: If your resident school district determines that attending the program is not in the best educational interest of the student, please refer to your local school district policy regarding your rights to access this program, including your right to appeal a denial/ineligibility determination.

Parent/Legal Guardian Records Release Authorization and Acknowledgement

Rhode Island Connections Academy is a program sponsored by the East Bay Educational Collaborative, a consortium of school districts in the East Bay of Rhode Island. I certify that my student's enrollment in the Virtual Program is in the best educational interest of the student. Should the resident school district approve my student's enrollment, I provide my consent for the school district to release all of the student's educational records to Rhode Island Connections Academy without delay.

I approve this application and give permission for the release of records to the East Bay Educational Collaborative and Rhode Island Connections Academy for the purpose of application/admission/placement. Such records include, but are not limited to academic history, current course grades, standardized test results, Individualized Education Programs (IEP), 504, attendance record, school health record, conduct reports, and evaluation reports such as psychological/educational evaluations.

Upon program acceptance, I understand there are additional steps to confirm student attendance.

By signing below, I acknowledge my agreement with the information in this section and certify that all of the information provided in this form is accurate and complete.
